FISCAL ANALYSIS

ASSUMPTION

The Clay County Clerk stated it would cost the county approximately $5,000 to hold the election.

Oversight assumes there would be new costs to the Clay County Regional Recreational District for election of Board Directors. Oversight assumes there would be no new election costs to the District if no one were to file for the position of Board Director. This proposal would allow the governing body to appoint a person to fill the position in cases where no one files for Director. Oversight will show fiscal impact to the Clay County Regional Recreation District as $0 or $5,000 (the cost of an election).
